

Biography:

Dr. Aidmar Wainakh is a product cybersecurity and privacy researcher at Continental Automotive. He finished his Ph.D. as part of the RTG2050 in the area B2 at TU-Darmstadt. He also completed there his M.Sc. in Distributed Software Systems. Formerly, he obtained a M.Sc. in Web Sciences and a Diploma in Information Systems Engineering from Syrian universities. He has worked on several research topics such as web vulnerabilities, network security, and privacy in social networks and distributed machine learning. Currently, he is active in the areas of security for AI and AI for security for automotive.